A Time to Lead

February 18, 1964

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

To the Senior Class of 1964:

"Time passes quickly. Take time to look — it is the price of success. Take time to think — it is a source of power. Take time to play — it is the secret of perennial youth. Take time to read — it is the source of wisdom. Take time to be friendly — it is the way to happiness. Take time to laugh — it is the music of the soul."

The theme of the Yearbook this year is Time. This is a precious commodity that affects your entire life. Time can be wasted in useless pursuits or put to good use depending upon your inclinations and strengths. If you have used your time wisely in your three years at Passaic Senior High School, it follows that you have benefited from the lessons taught here and have developed principles which will serve as assets to you and your community. Since the dawn of man, there have been numerous devices and methods for measuring the time that elapsed between the rising and setting of the sun. Scientists have produced everything from hourglasses and sundials to today's modern silent transistor clocks. Mathematicians have probed deeply into the problems of how many minutes in one hour, in one day, and in a year. In general, man has troubled himself about time since time itself began. Time is yours to do with what you will.

Do not forget that first and foremost you must have faith in yourself and in the mores of our civilization. Our nation is only as strong as the individuals who compose it. Only you can protect and make it a better one. You and others like you will become the backbone of our society. I believe that most young people are fine individuals of courage and conviction, dedicated to concepts which are right and desirable.

It is my hope that every graduating senior will use his time to develop the qualities of responsibility and the privileges of citizenship. May each of you embody in person the creed of "malice toward none and charity toward all" which the world needs so desperately.

My thanks and appreciation to the Yearbook Staff and faculty advisors for a job well done.

May your future radiate good health, happiness, and success!

Sincerely,

Peter Cannici

"Time is a great teacher"

Sandburg

To cut, or not to cut: that is the question:
Whether 'tis nobler in school to suffer
The whims and quirks of teachers,
Or to take matters into our own hands,
And by cutting classes end them? To cut; to wander;
And more; and by wandering to say we end
The heartache and the thousand natural shocks
That work in school makes us heir to. For to skip classes is
A desire often felt. To cut, to wander;
To relax; perchance to dream: yes, there's the problem;
For when we day-dream, what dreams may come
When we have disregarded our scholastic duties,
Will be evil: there's the reason
That makes us stay in school;
For who would bear the whips and scorns of schoolwork,
The oppressor's freely-given detentions, the arrogant substitute's homework,
The pangs of despised exams, the passing bell's delay,
The insolence of lower-classmen, and the rejection of
Our labors by our teachers,
When we ourselves might take
An enjoyable day off? Who would burdens bear,
Grunt and sweat under a load of books,
But that the dread of some punishment after our return
Makes us rather bear those ills we have
Than fly to others which may be worse?
Thus our consciences make cowards of us all;
And thus our resolutions to cut classes
Are stayed by the thought that soon
Will come Graduation.

Time Worn Classics

O CLASSMATE! MY CLASSMATE!

O Classmate! my Classmate! our cheating is now done.
The test has weathered all red marks, the "A" we sought is won.
The door is near, the bell I hear, the students all
are weary,
While follow eyes the shaky knees, the faces pale and teary.
But O pen! pen! pen!
O the dark ink drops of black
Where at his desk my Classmate sighs
The future, alas, alack!

THE RAVEN -- OUS HUNGER

Once upon a midnight dreary, while I pondered, weak and weary.
Over many a queer and curious chapter of forgotten chem,
While I nodded, nearly sleeping,
Suddenly there came a beeping
From a T-bird or a Jeep-ing
And the shout .....
"Let's go to Rutt's"
Singing a melodious refrain
To the rhythm of each hunger pain,
The grim, gluttonous growling of my garrulous stomach
Chilled me — filled me with fantastic hunger never felt before.
So I scrammed through my chamber door.
To such hunger I'm defenseless,
Even though I'll fail my chem test,
And now I have ninety cents less
'Cause I heard .....
"Let's go to Rutt's!"

A RED, RED ROSE

O, my graduation's like a red, red rose,
I'm newly sprung in June:
O, my graduation's like the melody,
They'll sweetly play in tune.

As fair art thou, my bonnie lass,
As anxious so am I:
And I will love thee still, my dear,
When college enter I.

When college enter I, my dear,
And it all begins again:
And I will love thee still my dear,
As I toil once more with pen.

And fair thee well, my only love!
And fair thee well a while!
Graduation will come again, my love,
Tho' it won't be for quite a while.

A Declaration of Student Independence

The unanimous declaration of the 576 seniors of the graduating class of 1964

When in the course of academic pursuits it becomes necessary for one group of students to dissolve the educational bands which have connected them to the faculty, and to assume among the scholars of the nation, the separate and equal status to which the laws of nature entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should explain the causes which drive them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all students are created equal and have certain inalienable rights, that among these are life without homework, liberty from monthly tests, and the pursuit of part-time intellectualism. When any high school administration is destructive of these ends, it is the sacred right of the students to protest, and to institute a system which provides protection for their future security.

LET FACTS BE SUBMITTED TO A CANDID WORLD:

History teachers make it compulsory for their students to subscribe to the "American Observer," a subversive current events publication designed for those who want to know what happened in the news three weeks ago. It is generally suspected that the teachers receive a handsome commission on the sales.

English instructors spend at least four hours a night searching feverishly through the pages of Webster's Dictionary for a minimum of 500 words which no pupil is capable of defining. The teachers constantly use these words in class and expect their students to appreciate the fact because "it presents a challenge."

Teachers in the Mathematics Department pull unannounced quizzes whenever possible, especially the one time in fifty when the class hasn't studied the night before.

When a chemistry or physics student finds an error on the teacher's part, the teacher assumes an indignant attitude and says: "I was just testing you to see if you were awake."

Term papers are graded in a totally unfair manner. The teacher stands at the top of a stairway, throws the papers downstairs, and gives the highest marks to the papers which travel the longest distances, presumably because they are more "weighty."

Finally, "the most unkindest cut of all" is the staggered session. Those students who don't have to report at the ungodly hour of 8:05 A.M. must wait until the ungodly hour of 3:11 P.M. before being dismissed. In the end it is the student who suffers (or should we say "staggers?").

IN EVERY STAGE OF THESE OPPRESSIONS WE HAVE PETITIONED FOR OUR RIGHTS IN THE MOST HUMBLE TERMS. BUT THE FACULTY HAS BEEN DEAF TO THE VOICE OF JUSTICE.

WE THEREFORE, THE 576 GRADUATES OF THE PASSAIC SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF '64, DO SOLEMNLY DECLARE THAT WE ARE ABSOLVED FROM ALL ALLEGIANCE TO MR. CANNICI, MRS. STUBBA, AND MR. JARKESY.

NOW WE ARE FREE TO JOIN THE MASSES OF THE UNEMPLOYED, ENLIST IN THE NATIONAL GUARD, HANG OUT IN LOCAL BILLIARD PARLORS, WEAR OVERSIZED BULKY-KNIT SWEATERS, SNIFF AIRPLANE GLUE, AND BECOME PUSH-CART PEDDLERS.

School is:
a loud alarm clock.
biting your nails.
Assemblies A and B, but never C. a broken pencil sharpener.
studying the ceiling in study hall.
a bomb scare.
square dancing with a square.
a scrunchy locker.
a tear-stained report card.
a pep-rally in the cafeteria.
a place very far from Rutt's.
a sudden stomach ache.
going down an "up" stairway.
swallowing your chewing gum.
staggering.

Happiness is:
a study hall in physics.
a history test that's been postponed.
a seat next to a "brain" in math.
a key for the elevator.
no homework.
a college acceptance.
a smoke in the lavatory.
a book you don't have to cover.
an exemption from exams.
a ballpoint that doesn't skip.
a car to drive to school.
a chance to go first in the lunch line.
a homeroom teacher that lets you talk.
a blizzard during mid-terms.

That Was The Day That Was

13th of Friday

This bulletin will be very long because all the usual items have been included.

All Driver Ed. classes will meet in the lobby because the Corvette is being repaired. There will be an announcement later changing this to the Little Theater.

SENIORS — Your prom this year will be held at the Copacabana in New York City. To encourage full attendance at this function, the cost per couple will be five dollars ($5.00).

Copies of J. Marturano's notebooks are now available in the school bookstore.

JUNIORS — Class ring orders will be taken by a representative from Tiffany's this Wednesday. The rings are going to be delivered next Wednesday.

Attention all Editors, Associate Editors, Sports, News, and Feature Staffs of the "Hilltop Star". News items are not due today.

The Leaders Club will meet tomorrow in the Girl's Gym during period 10. However, don't count on this because the meeting will probably be postponed.

Attention Physics students. There will be a movie shown in the Physics Lab during your free period. Attendance is not required, but you will find two five-part essays pertaining to the movie on your final exam.

Because of the beautiful weather we're having, all bomb scares should be phoned in today.

All seniors who failed Health should get their summer school applications from Miss DeGroot.

Today we will follow the Assembly "A" schedule with the exception of period 8 which will follow period 7 if period 7 should fall on an odd-numbered Wednesday replacing period 4. However, if your grandmother's middle name is Mary, we will follow the Assembly "B" schedule with the usual exceptions to the exceptions.

Mr. Ler Man expresses his thanks for the Kodak Brownie given him by the Senior Class. He plans to use it for next year's class pictures if he can find the instructions that came with it.

Today's Lunch: Johnny Marzetti; a spoonful of tossed salad; bread; juice; milk. This is subject to change which means that due to the amount of rolls left over from last week's Submarine Sandwiches, Johnny Marzetti will probably be served on a roll.

Following is a list of Odd Jobs and Odd Clubs requesting your services:

Student with high vocal ability. Apply: Mrs. C. Sonenshein, Faculty Advisor, French Club.

Student interested in journalistic career. Apply: The Office for the delivery of the New York Times and Herald Tribune.

Student with high mechanical aptitude. Apply: Mrs. M. Rinzler for position of folding papers for the "Hilltop Star". Spanish speaking student. Must have interest in international relations. Apply: Mr. M. Cohen for position of Language Lab Coordinator.

Student with memorable qualities. Apply: The Office for job in Lost and Found.

Student interested in the field of trucking. Apply: Homeroom teacher for representative position to Student Council.

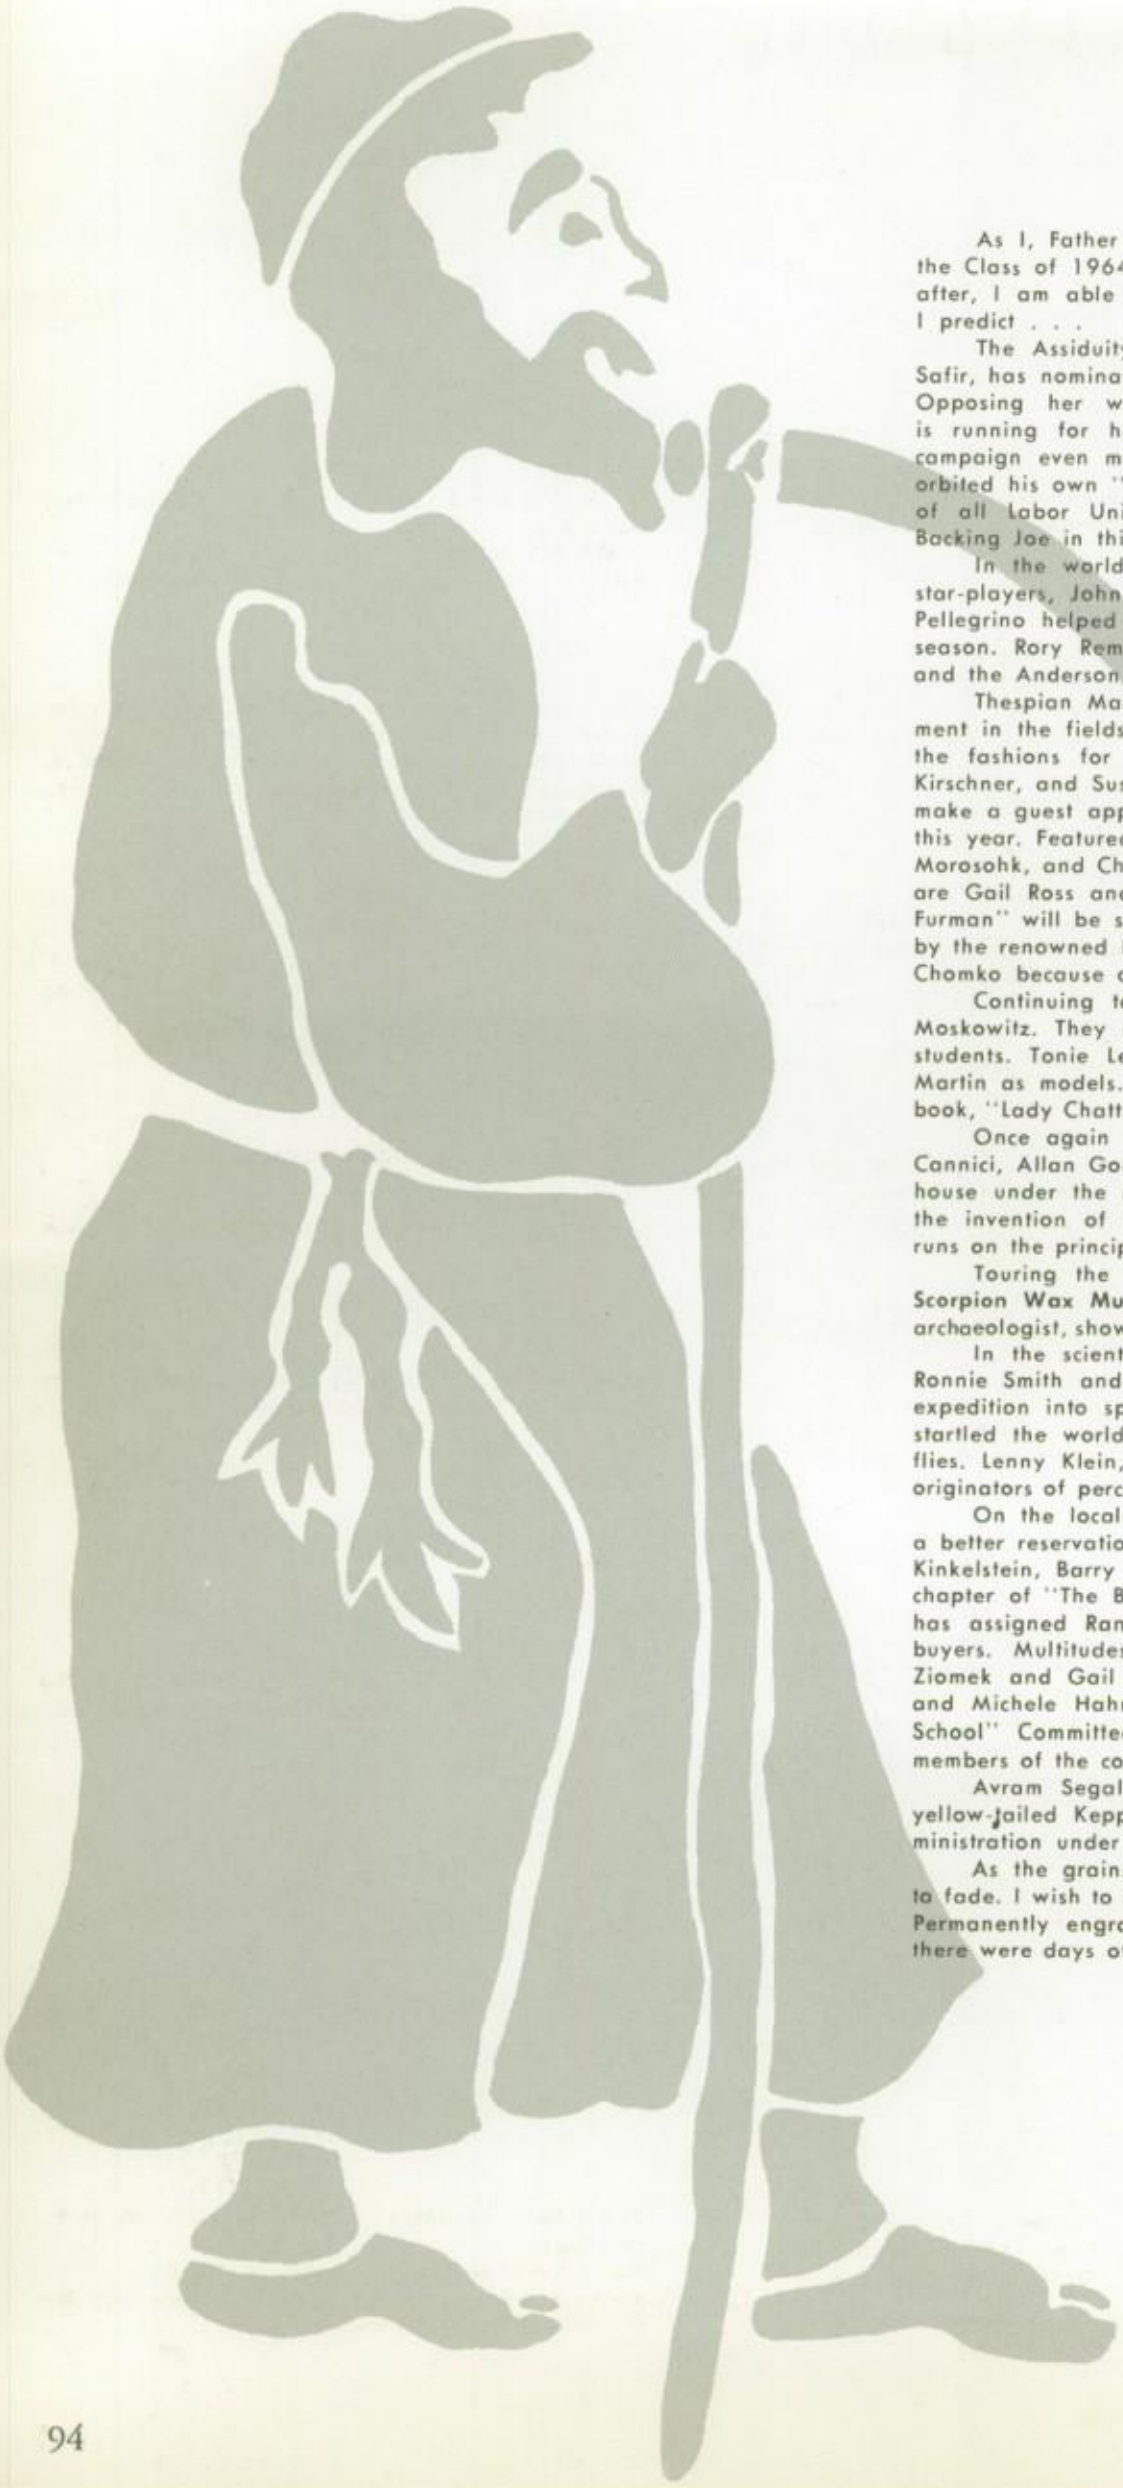
TIME 1984



As I, Father of Time, look into my crystal hour-glass, the vision of the prophecy for the Class of 1964 is beginning to unfold before me. With my ability to observe the hereafter, I am able to foretell the events and happenings in the year, 1984. This is what I predict . . .

The Assiduity Party, lead by Lois Puzino, Lee Geraci, Ellen Kampelman, and Sylvia Safir, has nominated Carolyn Schwartz to run as the first woman President of this country. Opposing her will be Billy Martini with a most intoxicating campaign. Rudy Kasni is running for head of the Treasury Department and is still dazzling citizens with a campaign even more exciting than the one he had back in '63. Rudy has launched and orbited his own "Kasni for Treasurer" relay satellite. Joe Paz is now International Director of all Labor Unions, but is having difficulties with Attorney General Elliot Goldberg. Backing Joe in this "battle of wits" are Fred Casmano, Dave Cochran, and Bart Failla.

In the world of sports, Dodger Manager Alan Novitsky is troubled by the Yankee's star-players, John Sullivan and Eddie Lemire. Alonzo Jennings, Kathy Krusheski, and Alex Pellegrino helped to win the Golden Frug for the United States at the Olympic Games this season. Rory Remer, combining brains with brawn, has won the Federici (Sports) Award and the Anderson (Censored) Award — in the same week!

Thespian Marcia Waldman has received the Tuchman Award for outstanding achievement in the fields of art and drama. Gracella Blanco and Howie Weissman are designing the fashions for the movie, "Gidget Meets Oleg Cassini" with Terry Deich, "Pepper" Kirschner, and Susan Waters as the female stars. Susan Dorff, "Miss Ski-Slope 1984" will make a guest appearance in this film. The Paul Nargi Circus will appear on Cinerama-TV this year. Featured will be bare-back rider Colette Suid, and clowns Marty Gonska, Allan Morosohk, and Charlie Allen. Chief consultants for "The Eleventh Hour" and "Outer Limits" are Gail Ross and Dottie Sivilic respectively. "The Weird, Weird, Weird World of Pauline Furman" will be sponsored by Doublemint Gum. These commercials have been made famous by the renowned Roth Twins, Andrea and Rita. Colgate Dental Cream has employed Walter Chomko because of his winning "Gardol Smile."

Continuing to work efficiently together are journalists Barbara Dubnoff and Arlene Moskowitz. They are the co-editors of "Brownie", a weekly publication for high school students. Tonie Len, editor of "Nutz" magazine has employed Karen Schultz and Carol Martin as models. Winning the Pulitzer Prize for literature this year is Deanne Leff for her book, "Lady Chatterley Goes To College."

Once again we can thrill to the music of "The Esquires" with Tom Tomesky, Richie Cannici, Allan Gonsiska, and Jimmy Vivinetto. They often play at the "Baezitoria", a coffee house under the management of Joey Kalmowitz and Madeline Gorstein. We will witness the invention of a new musical instrument called the "Windpipes" by Julian Mostel. It runs on the principal of hot air.

Touring the nation are Tom Blake and Steve Ellis, curators of their own traveling Scorpion Wax Museum. Also lecturing around the world is Tatiana Mazenko, international archaeologist, showing millions of interested viewers "How To Squeeze Water From A Rock."

In the scientific world, Kathy Bis is being hailed as 1984's leading brain surgeon. Ronnie Smith and Thomas Cook are busily engaged in preparing Arthur Barabas for an expedition into space on the rocket, "Frenzy VII." John Mulholland, famed Biologist, has startled the world with his new invention, the Venus-Fly Trap. It catches girls instead of flies. Lenny Klein, philologist, has just deciphered the ancient language of the Solomonis, originators of percussion instruments.

On the local scene, many former high school "Indians" are helping to make Passaic a better reservation. Joe Krenicky is County Director of The Boys' Clubs. Pete Ebner, Harvey Kinkelstein, Barry Knopf, and Howie Solomon have finally inducted Marc Storch into their chapter of "The Body Beautiful Club." Jon Lenz, manager of "Ginsburg's Clothing Store," has assigned Randy Gordon, Pat Delia, Rocky Sciuto, and Karen Grossman as fashion buyers. Multitudes still congregate at the Forstman Library and the librarians, Sophie Ziomek and Gail Goszkowski often have a difficult time in keeping order. Dave Glazer and Michele Hahn are heads of the controversial "Let's Abolish Going Steady in High School" Committee, but they have had no success in putting restrictions upon youthful members of the community.

Avram Segall, President of the Bird Watchers Society, is campaigning to have the yellow-tailed Kepplebop as symbol of progress at Rutt's Institute, home of the Food Administration under the direction of Preston Manelis.

As the grains of time run through the hour-glass, the vision of this prophecy begins to fade. I wish to relate that your class of 1964 will long be remembered by contemporaries. Permanently engraved into the spirit of Passaic High School is the knowledge that once there were days of fun, schemes, laughter, and aspiration.

Have you ever studied a Passaic High School senior? If not, here is your opportunity. These poor overworked creatures are suffering from a multitude of ailments. These diseases, discovered in a recent survey, are so numerous that only a few of them could be listed at one time. The following chart describes some of the illnesses that have plagued the graduates of 1964.

Class Diagnosis

Name of disease	Symptom	Prognosis
Senioritis	During the senior year, student develops sudden disinterest in school. Reason: overwork and overplay. In some cases the disease becomes pronounced at the end of the junior year.	Chronic illness. Only cure — graduation.
Lockjaw	Teeth become tightly clamped making talking and eating impossible. This unfortunate condition arises from over use.	Hope In time and with plenty of rest the malady will disappear. WARNING — subject to repeated attacks. ADVICE — keep mouth closed and be optimistic.
Deep freeze	This disease strikes as a student begins a test. Immediately joints stiffen, eyes swell, hands cramp, and teeth chatter. The mind ceases to function!	Quick recovery occurs when the teacher allows the student to take the exam at another time. WARNING — This disease has a tendency to recur. Be careful! Once is understandable; twice is unforgiveable!
Examinationitis	Cause is evident. In this instance the student is afflicted at home. Symptoms are varied: stomache ache, sore throat, headache, sprained eyelash. — Any ailment will do, providing that the patient is allowed to remain home to recuperate.	Rapid recovery Duration of illness is shortened immeasurably when the doctor comes to call.
False Fractures	Injury is incurred during strenuous exercises in gym class. It is easily recognized by the oversized bandage on the wounded arm, leg, or finger.	Recovery time unpredictable It depends upon how long the student can convince the school nurse that he is suffering.
Fog Fever	The student is continually surrounded by a cloud-like formation. There are deep routed psychological factors present. The student is withdrawn. Because of a fear of seeing others or of being seen, he hides himself in a smoke screen.	Cure — Make him see the picture "One in Twenty Thousand" ten consecutive times.
Acute Melancholy	It occurs during the latter half of the senior year when many students have received their college acceptances. A few who have not heard a word are plagued with a feeling of rejection. The syptoms are generally the same: a tired run-down look caused by nightly vigils at the mailbox.	Duration of the disease is uncertain. Its cure is simple — a white envelope containing a sheet of gold-bordered paper whose first six words read: "I am delighted to inform you . . . "
Elephantitis and its related disease	Grapeitis After hearing an elephant or grape joke, students groan with laughter. Teachers just groan.	Extremely contagious One joke leads to another. After hearing one of these jokes it is impossible not to repeat it.
Breaking Point	Nervousness, no appetite, insomnia, chewed nails, blood-shot eyes, rapid breathing — the Boris Karloff look. Reason: One more day until End of Year Exams!	Relax, think positively. Turn off the T.V. set, Hi-Fi, and radio. Now quietly and calmly begin to study. Above all remember this thought: "Time and the hour run through the roughest day."

Edgar Lee Masters' tales of yore
Have been adapted to plays and books before,
And with his format we disclose
Who's who of the students that you chose.

Most Popular

Carolyn Schwartz — William Martini
We were chosen as the most popular . . .
It was quite an honor for us after having served as class president and prom queen;
In fact, we were thrilled that people liked us so much.

Most Likely to Succeed

Gail Ross — Arthur Barbaras
We studied, yet felt there was more to life than work.
Both of us prided ourselves on being able to be amiable as well as studious.
Yes, it was good being selected as the most likely to suceed.

Best Personality

Carolyn Schwartz — Howard Weissman
Both of us liked people, sports, and fun:
The well-rounded person was our ideal.
Our friends must have felt comfortable with us,
For they cited us for our personalities.

Most Scholarly

Arlene Moskowitz — Arthur Barbaras
Shakespeare, Bach, Rembrandt . . .
Yes, we liked reading books, listening to music, and looking at masterpieces;
That's why we were chosen most scholarly.

Most School Spirit

Renee Martin — Alonzo Jennings
"Scalp 'em, fight 'em . . . " "Get that ball . . . "
We were selected as the most spirited —
For we loved the game and the team and the school.

Most Talented

Entertaining people through our instrumental and vocal achievements were our endeavors.
Through these, we could express our every emotion.
Many of our listeners cited us for our talents.

The Hilltop

Here are Susan, Angela, and Rene,
The Beautiful, the Arguer, the Spirited,
All, all are here on the Hilltop.

Here are Arthur, Alonzo, and Martin,
The Scholarly, the Athletic, the Clown,
All, all are here on the Hilltop.

Best Looking

Susan Dorff — William Martini
People must have liked our blond hair and blue eyes.
Then, too, they must have liked our manner and style,
For we were chosen as the best looking.

Best Dressed

Gracella Blanco — Howard Weissman
Madras shirts, turtlenecks, and mohair sweaters
Were the clothes to wear in '64;
We wore them setting the fashion precedent.

Most Athletic

Kathleen Krusheski — Alonzo Jennings
Football, basketball, baseball, and volleyball
Were our favorite pastimes at P.H.S.:
We loved the fast-moving action of the game.

Class Arguers

Angela Sevier — Rory Remer
We had definite ideas about certain subjects
And neither of us was afraid to voice them in classes, cafeteria, or after school.
For this we were named Class Arguers.

Class Clowns

Paulene Furman — Martin Gonska
Our elephant jokes and little quips entertained our classmates and teachers.
Having amused them, we enjoyed that certain warmth.

Class Pals

Louise Lamont, Carol Ann Grasso / Simon Olstein, Rory Remer
Both of us went to games and classes together;
We discussed problems, studies, and love.
Everyone knew how close we were!

THE CENIORBURY TALES

When June with its sweetness pierces our heart,
We will then be ready to depart.
When soft west winds have breathed upon the trees,
Our memories will still be with these.

THE PRINCIPAL
A headmaster there was, and that a worthy man,
And from the very time he first began
To teach among these walls
biology,
And from that position we can see,
As fast as a thread spins from a spool,
He rose to be honored as head of our school.
For seven mortal years he has long understoood
All of our behavior, bad or good.
Using at times disciplinary measures,
Although not always to our
pleasures,
But this he had to do, his job to fulfill,
Making him a very perfect
principal.

THE VICE PRINCIPAL
With him there was a fine woman, his assistant;
And we often heard her voice near or distant.
This lady's smile was coy, but the feeling of fear
Came to us when to her office we were anear.
Long ago at assemblies funny and fine,
She liked to chant the services divine,
But one good afternoon to our dismay,
We saw that she was taken away,
For with dainty grace she stepped and then
alarm;
Our poor vice-principal had broken her arm.

THE VICE-VICE PRINCIPAL
There was a summoner in our interior.
Who found himself a ranking superior.
Every day over the P.A. he spoke
And ofen we wished the loudspeaker would break.
A look of fear came over our faces
When he told us that we parked in the teachers' places.
A kind of school policeman who was everywhere,
He had a soft voice but enough to scare;
Although we didn't like to obey every rule,
We know he worked for the good of the school.

THE GUIDANCE COUNSELOR
Our guidance counselor did much to keep us gay
While we were waiting for colleges to say
Whether we were accepted or rejected
Or other things unexpected.
A lively soul who knew the inmost art
Of telling us our board scores so we wouldn't start
Crying or wailing for this she did know
Would be our lot, if scores were low.
She'd grown a little tired, for she tried to set sparks
In us of working for above-average marks.
She'd visited Radcliffe, Harvard, and Yale
And came back to tell us an informative tale.

THE PASSAIC SCHOLAR
A lad — that is a Passaic Scholar who Could eat, watch television, talk, and study too,
Would rather spend his cash on movies downtown
On girls or food than on his cap and gown.
Of violence and scandal in ye
"Enquirer" he read
And kept Ian Fleming close beside his bed,
Was clad in trousers short and tight,
Which took him hours to remove every night.
When to his fair maiden he'd bid
farewell,
His teacher would grab him before the bell.
These writings, these jokes, are all
in jest,
For our students are great, as you might have guessed.

THE LIBRARIAN
There was a librarian among the band
Supplied us with books in a way that was grand;
She kept us all in merry amusement
Until for our books the paying of dues meant.
She had sent us notices, we ignored them
all;
We got poor on fines and she made a haul.

THE LIFE OF MATH
In addition to these people we had a subject
To which many did object.
It involved numbers, angles, and sines
And drove us all nearly out of our minds.
There were many teachers in this number guild
At whom we looked in awe because they were so skilled.
They could multiply, divide, and add at great rate,
The number of math students who would graduate.

THE NURSE
For the school nurse did much to heal our ills
With bandages, and iodine, and many colored pills.
Each student has gone at least once in the year
To plead a pain in stomach, head, or ear.
She listened very quietly and then shook her head
For she didn't believe a word they said.
To each of her patients she had a word of cheer
As she sent them back to their classes, never fear,
For no matter how much they would grunt and groan,
Only the really sick ones were ever sent home.

THE TEACHERS
Our teachers to all did not appeal;
They gave us knowledge and made us feel
A bit smarter, more worldly in a way,
And in our senioryear we heard them say,
"You go on your own. Heaven speed you!
May the blissful martyr reward and heed you!
And perhaps some day you'll return to caress
The faculty with a tale of success."

THE GRADUATION GAME

1. June — Graduates say senior year's a "cinch." Advance 1
2. September — Teachers are Mr. Marturano, Mr. Goodman, Mr. Fullerton, Miss Cashell, Mrs. Sonenshein, and Miss Spille. Start over
3. You received a warning slip for gym and health. Play for a "D" while you go back 1
4. Two weeks vacation in September. Advance 8. Correction. Your teachers assigned 3 weeks homework over vacation. Go back 9
5. Received permit. Advance 8
6. Were picked to head truck elimination committee. Lose 1 turn
12. 18 detentions for cutting school to get your license.
13. Parked car into a truck during Drivers Ed. Parents foot bill. Back 4
14. Missed "Top Eleven" by 0.0002 ½ points. Go back to grammar school.
15. You received an "A" from Mr. Fullerton for inventing a new "brownie" rod. Advance 19
16. Bought your "trot" for Hamlet. Advance 2 (If it was "Cliff's Notes" sneak 4)
17. You sent for catalogues from Fairleigh Dickinson, Monmouth College, Yale, Princeton, and Vassar. Advance 11 (Anyone who does that deserves credit)
18. You succumbed to fatal attack of senioritis in February. Go back 2 (it's normal!)
19. You parked your car in Mr. Jarkesy's parking space. Back 8. If you locked the keys in the car, go back 20.
20. You were late for your yearbook picture appointment. Mr. LerMan made faces at you. Go back 2
21. You were found smoking in the Girls' Lavatory. Go back 5. If you are a boy, go back 10
22. Found fly in your tuna sandwich in the cafeteria. Back 9

28. Bow-tie clashes with handkerchief on dinner jacket for prom. Lose 1 turn
29. Had 32 points for Service Award. You are a credit to your school. Advance 5
30. Caught in hall before 8 minute bell . . . and without a pass. Go back 2. They still give you detention.
31. Were tardy 28 out of 29 days. You became student hero over night.Go ahead 3
32. Bluffed your way through Mot's final. Advance 2
33. You finally got accepted at Podunk U. because of your excellent grades, upstanding character, and your uncle's on the Board of Directors. Advance 5

For each "yes" answer, move (forward or backward) on the path to graduation. If you fail to reach the goal, the author suggests that you (a) repeat high school, (b) become a plumber's helper, (c) apply to the street cleaner's union, (d) get with it, (e) all of the above. Good Luck!

7. Received an 800 on your English SAT, a 250 on Math. Advance 3, then go back 1. You applied to M.I.T.
8. Congratulations! You were named editor-in-chief of the paper. Advance 8 (if your older sister was editor, only advance 7).
9. Cafeteria serves special — peanut butter and jelly sandwich with chicken chow mein. Advance 1
10. Up all night with stomach cramps. Retrogress 3
11. Christmas time! Yay! Advance. Correction. See #4 (only double).

34. Congratulations! You got engaged. (Those young teachers sure are cute.) Advance 3
35. Yearbook leaves picture space abve your name blank. Advance 8 Spaces. It's a vast improvement. 3 Forward.

36. 500 Brownie points for carrying the record player for Miss Cashell. Advance 1
37. You got Mr. Lavenda to concede that you were right . . . he's only an expert in 41 subjects. Go to finish
38. For cutting gym during exams, your grade was lowered from C to D. Go back 2

39. You lost $3.50 deposit for losing cap at graduation. So what! Advance 1
40. Mr. Cannici's speech cut short during graduation ceremony because of sudden downpour.. Advance to college.
41. Eureka! YOU FINALLY MADE IT! Congrats!

Thus, time is a measure of life. It moves equally for all and waits for none. What we make of our time determines what we are. The period we have spent at Passaic High has molded our characters, stimulated our minds, and afforded us opportunities to learn.

No one can erase the memories of these years, for time has recorded them and preserved them for the future. Perhaps at another moment we shall meet again to recapture our experiences on the Hilltop. Until then, let us have a time to remember.
